

Thales a winning team in Avionics Support

Airbus awards Thales 'Best Supplier in Aviation Support'

With over 7,500 direct suppliers worldwide, Airbus attributed awards to 7 partners, during a ceremony held in Hamburg on October 5th. Thales has been recognized as best supplier by Airbus executive committee acknowledging continuous excellence in the field of customer support for systems & equipment, cabin and propulsion.

This is the second time this year that Thales's performance for avionics customer support and services is recognized by the airframer. Earlier this year at the Farnborough Airshow, Thales received the award for second best supplier in the yearly Airbus Supplier Support Rating 2015, based on the feedbacks of airline operators.

P&C Communications, your Thales integration partner

P&C communications provides expert integration of Thales technology working in sectors as diverse as defence, government, commercial, banking and public sector organisations.

We can integrate and project manage full implementation across the comprehensive range of Thales cyber security solutions.

Our long pedigree of being a high level Thales partner means we are able to assist at every stage of planning through to implementation and full project after-support.

More information? Contact us now on 01704 542 420 or visit us at p-ccomms.com